The finality of the office action of June 6, 2002 is herein withdrawn in view of the Canadian patent 1,297,788 presented in Paper No. 22.

The allowance of claim 36, and 38-51 is herein withdrawn due to the following rejection.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 22-51 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the Canadian patent 1,297,788 taken with the Ely patent III.

The Canadian patent teaches the application interferon at 5 to 75 million international units for treating the ^{virus} ~~views~~ causing AIDS. Applicant's claims are directed to greater than 30×10^6 IU of interferon by ^{or mucosal contact} ~~injection~~. The Ely III patent teaches the application of interferon by oral mucosa to treat other viral infections. The primary reference does not teach the oral mucosa administration. Accordingly, one skilled in this art would find ample motivation from the prior art supra to employ the interferon by oral mucosa with a reasonable expectation that said interferon would be effecting to combat said viral infection in the absence of w showing of oral mucosa us injectable form for the high dosages disclosed.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP
